Tonight's concert, in aid of St. Helena Hospice, was originally planned by Mr. Sid Cooper who died suddenly on 2nd January 1990, after performing in Mother Goose at this theatre. His death represents a great loss to the West Bergholt Concert Band and music in the North East Essex Area where he was well known and respected as a popular peripatetic teacher in the local schools. He will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

The West Bergholt Concert Band was founded by Mr. Cooper some thirteen years ago and has grown in numbers ever since. Part of the success of the band is down to the 'fun' basis upon which it is run. Players of all ages and ability have the opportunity to perform as a band in a friendly atmosphere giving enjoyment to both the musicians concerned and the audience.

The band wishes to, and will continue. I am sure Mr. Cooper would be proud in the knowledge that something he started and enjoyed has carried on. The programme tonight is as he planned and the support of the Westcliff Theatre Staff and the efforts of the band have enabled this concert to go ahead.
